The Future in NSW – Workforce Planning to 2025*

Estimated Demand Growth: Not Applicable
Estimated Workforce Size: Not Applicable
Additional Fellows: All demand scenarios suggest a small number of additional trainees required
Range: Not Applicable

*Workforce Planning to 2025 combines the physician sub-specialties of Addiction Medicine, Occupational and Environmental Medicine, Pain Medicine, Palliative Medicine, Public Health Medicine, Sexual Health Medicine, Clinical Pharmacology and Clinical Genetics. These physician sub-specialties were grouped and modelled together due to small workforce size in the individual sub-specialties.

Workforce Planning Priority and Risk Rating

Ageing: The risk associated with the workforce aged over 60 and 70.
Small Workforce Size: The risk associated with the sustainability of small workforces.
Retirement Intentions: The risk associated with the retirement intentions of the current workforce.
New Fellow Requirements: The risk associated with the requirement to recruit additional trainees, based on workforce planning to 2025.
Training Supervision: The risk associated with the availability of the existing workforce to provide supervision to new trainees.

Future Workforce Considerations

Occupational and Environmental medicine has experienced major changes with the decline of industries such as manufacturing and heavy engineering, resulting in reduced emphasis on health protection, with more attention now being paid to assessment of fitness for employment and the management of incapacity for work.

There has also been a shift from the provision of occupational health care by internal, directly employed teams to contracted-out services delivered by independent practitioners or larger external providers.
