PREFERRED TERMINOLOGY TO BE USED WHEN REFERRING TO ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER PEOPLES

The Aboriginal Health and Medical Research Council of NSW (AH&MRC), the peak body representing Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Services in NSW, has provided advice that the use of the shorthand term "ATSI" to describe Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples is not appropriate. This advice is consistent with NSW Health Circular No 94/1 issued on 7 January 1994.

In line with this advice, it is requested that "Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples" should always be printed in full and that terms such as "ATSI" should on no account be used.

Please also note that, although reference to both Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples may be required at times, within NSW Health, the term "Aboriginal" is generally used in preference to "Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander", in recognition that Aboriginal people are the original inhabitants of NSW.
