COVID-19

COVID-19 (Coronavirus Disease 2019) is a respiratory illness caused by a virus called SARS-CoV-2. It is spread through respiratory droplets when an infected person coughs, sneezes, or talks. The virus can also be spread by touching a surface or object that is contaminated with the virus, then touching the eyes, nose, or mouth.

If you have been in close contact with someone who has COVID-19, you may be at risk of getting the virus. If you develop symptoms, you should self-isolate and seek medical advice. If you have symptoms, call your healthcare provider or local health department for guidance.

Symptoms of COVID-19 may include:
- Fever
- Cough
- Shortness of breath
- Muscle pain
- Headache
- New loss of taste or smell
- Sore throat
- Chills
- Fatigue
- Nausea or vomiting
- Diarrhea

In the event of an outbreak, the NSW Health Department may advise self-isolation. Follow the advice of health officials and local authorities.
