Talking to your GP

People who experience persistent distress that is interfering with their ability to carry out day-to-day activities are encouraged to seek support. Your doctor (GP) is often a good place to start for most mental health conditions. Doctors can provide treatment or refer you to other service providers for mental health support.

Crisis support

If you or someone you know is in immediate danger, call Triple Zero (000) or go to your nearest hospital emergency department.

Free services available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

- Lifeline Australia: 13 11 14 or www.lifeline.org.au
A crisis support service that provides short-term support at any time for people who are having difficulty coping or staying safe.
- MensLine Australia: 1300 78 9978 or <https://mensline.org.au>
A telephone and online counselling service for men.
- Kids Helpline: 1800 551800 or www.kidshelpline.com.au
A free, private and confidential 24/7 phone and online counselling service for young people aged 5 to 25 years.

Mental Health Line

If you or someone you know needs help, the Mental Health Line offers:

- professional help and advice
- referrals to local mental health services.

It is staffed by mental health professionals who will ask questions to determine if you or, the person you are concerned about, needs ongoing mental health care and how urgently it is needed. The Mental Health Line is available to everyone in NSW and operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Call 1800 011 511.
