

ACAT Transition to My Aged Care full functionality

NSW Health Aged Care Assessment Teams will transition to full My Aged Care functionality from 4 February 2016. This change is part of the Commonwealth Aged Care Reforms which aim to provide support services that help older people stay in their homes and communities for longer.

What are the Aged Care Reforms?

On 1 July 2015, My Aged Care introduced a single, streamlined pathway for assessment and referrals into aged care services for older people. My Aged Care incorporates a website and phone-based screening process conducted by the My Aged Care contact centre. Service providers are now able to make one electronic referral to My Aged Care for multiple services for a client, and use a central client record.

What does the RAS do, and how can ACATs work with RAS?

Regional Assessment Services are a new workforce providing face-to-face assessments for clients seeking entry-level home support services. Like ACATs, RAS assessments are underpinned by a wellness and reablement approach and assessors assist clients to establish goals and develop support plans that help them to achieve their goals. Eligible clients will be referred for services under the Commonwealth Home Support Programme (CHSP).

ACATs will continue to provide face-to-face assessments for clients with higher level or complex needs for:

- Residential aged care
- Home care packages (levels 1, 2, 3 and 4)
- Transitional Aged Care
- Residential respite.

Both ACATs and RAS play an integral role in facilitating access for clients to the services they need. NSW Health is working to encourage a collaborative working environment between ACAT and RAS to assist in smooth referral transitions for clients.

What is changing in 2016?

- On 4 February 2016 ACATs will commence using the full functionality of the My Aged Care system.
- The access for clients needing an ACAT assessment will be via My Aged Care with the exception of inpatient referrals
- ACAT referrals from both public and private hospital will continue to be referred directly to ACATs
- All clients will be screened using the National Screening and Assessment Form (NSAF) to ensure a nationally consistent and holistic screening and assessment process.
- Assessments will be conducted with a focus on wellness and reablement, with assessors working with clients to recommend services that will help them to achieve their goals.

Referral Pathways for ACAT after 4 February 2016

- From 4 February 2016, direct your clients through the My Aged Care gateway for an assessment. You can refer clients via the Web Form, or hospital referral form located on the My Aged Care website or call the My Aged Care contact centre on 1800 200 422.
- Hospital referrals for ACAT assessments should be sent directly to the relevant ACAT team in your Local Health District.
