

TOOL 2: ONLINE FOOD AND DRINK PRODUCT INFORMATION

To assist retailers and those in health facilities tasked with the monitoring and evaluation of food outlets, an online tool will be available to help easily determine if food and drink products meet the Food and Drink Benchmark.

The three key elements relating to the provision of foods and drinks against the Food and Drink Benchmark are the ability to:

- Identify sugary drinks and healthier alternatives.
- Classify foods and drinks as Everyday or Occasional.
- Determine the Health Star Rating and portion size of foods and drinks, where these are required.

Searchable, online food and drink product information will be available to simplify and automate assessments of foods and drinks in a food outlet in terms of these key Food and Drink Benchmark elements. This up-to-date reference information for branded foods and drinks will form a key part of the PHIMS Nutrition standard tool to be launched at the end of 2017.
