

Rikka Lamb

"Aboriginal Health Worker",
Aboriginal Care Coordination Team

Voice of Youth

What is ACCT?

The Aboriginal Care Coordination Team (ACCT) is made up of clinically trained nurses and qualified Aboriginal Health Workers within Sydney Children's Hospital. The team works with local GPs and other service providers to coordinate a child's care.

ACCT can help you track your way through the health system, within the hospital and the community.

Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander?

Known/referred to Randwick Children's Hospital?

Under 16 years old?

Suffering from a Chronic Condition?

If YES to all of the above, the Aboriginal Care Coordination Team would love to support you and coordinate your child's health care.

What we do?

- Work with families to help understand and manage health needs.
- Provide information and connect them with community-based services.
- Liaise with local GPs to develop a management plan for the child's/children's chronic condition.
- Help access medication or equipment.
- Assist with coordinating appointments.

Patient Admitted

Patient receive treatment

ACCT Provide ongoing Care Coordination

AIMS

1

Promotion of Service

- Build community relationships
- Develop key contacts (Services)
- Work collaboratively with teams at SCH

2

GP Engagement

- Work collaboratively with GP's to holistically care for patients within our ACCT
- To complete Aboriginal Health assessments yearly
- Complete GP management plan

3

Community Health Education

- Attend community groups to provide formal and ad hoc health education
- Tailor Education sessions to the needs of the community

4

Care Coordination

- Work with families to help them understand and manage the health needs
- Provide info and connect them with community-based services
- Help access medication and equipment + coordinate appointments

5

Management of ED patients

- F/U Aboriginal patients who present and are discharged/leave from ED
- Explore needs inline with patient discharge plan
- Link families to external services

Contact Information

Email: rikka.lamb@health.nsw.gov.au

Tel: 02 9382 1011

Mob: 0448 294 107