

Allied Health
Professions Day
2022

Friday 14 October

Allied Health Professionals in Australia

Australia's 200,000+ allied health professionals represent more than a third of the health workforce.

They deliver an estimated 200 million health services annually, providing essential care for people of all ages, and people with chronic illnesses or mental ill-health, and those experiencing disability.

#StrongerTogether #AHPsDay

Supported by the

