

Aircraft rooms:

The rooms will have the equipment that can have multiple purposes such as a fold up bed or table and all equipment will be kept in storage cupboards and rooms. The aircraft will be able to turn into any type of room. For example first its an aircraft and depending on what the patient needs the room can turn into it. For multiple injuries the room can turn into a health-checkup/ first aid area, it can turn into an operating room for those in need of the situation. The room can basically shapeshift.

Script:

2025:

It is 2025 and Jimmy, 54 years old works as a farmer. He lives in Murray and he grows tomatoes and radishes. He lives with his wife who is also 54 years old. They have 2 children living 3 to 3.5 hours far from the. Both of their children go to Sydney university. Jimmy loves spending time with his family and one of his huge interests are barbecue dinners with his family. He needs extra support with workload but doesn't want to ask. His fears include his farm going under and him losing his business. He hopes for his children to be able to receive the proper educational support and go to the schools they prefer.

Eventhough he is not feeling well, he feels enough strong and dedicated to continue working. He is very stubborn minded and believes that the healthcare is for the weak. On one sunny warm day, when he feels well enough he says goodbye to his wife and goes to work. Midday he starts feeling dizzy and feels like he can't work anymore so he sits in the middle of his field to take a break that he suddenly gets runover by a tractor.

The tractor driver who hasn't seen him, gets out of the tractor worried and calls an ambulance to try and save Jimmy's life even though it takes around 1 to 1.5 hours for the ambulance to arrive. By the time that the ambulance arrives, Jimmy has already lost more than 20% of the volume of his blood, leading to severely reduced blood pressure, rapid heart rate, shallow breathing, and eventually death.

2040:

It is 2025 and Jimmy, 54 years old works as a farmer. He lives in Murray and he grows tomatoes and radishes. He lives with his wife who is also 54 years old. They have 2 children living 3 to 3.5 hours far from them. Both of their children go to Sydney university. Jimmy loves spending time with his family and one of his huge interests are barbecue dinners with his family. He needs extra support with workload but doesn't want to ask. His fears include his farm going under and him losing his business. He hopes for his children to be able to receive the proper educational support and go to the schools they prefer.

Even though he is not feeling well, he feels enough strong and dedicated to continue working. He is very stubborn minded and believes that the healthcare is for the weak. On one sunny warm day, when he feels well enough he says goodbye to his wife and goes to work. Midday he starts feeling dizzy and feels like he can't work anymore so he sits in the middle of his field to take a break that he suddenly gets run over by a tractor. The tractor driver who hasn't seen him, gets out of the tractor worried and calls a hospital. Regarding the urgency of the situation and condition, the hospital sends signals to Aviation Operational Services. After receiving the signals, the vehicle arrives and Jimmy gets taken care of immediately. After running a few tests and operating on him, they give him medicine and prevent loss of huge loss of blood.

