

PROGRAM

26 & 27 OCTOBER
2017

OUR HEALTH STORY /
OUR HEALTH FUTURE

DAY ONE

OUR HEALTH STORY

26 OCTOBER 2017

| | |
|---|---|
| 9.00 | REGISTRATION |
| 9.45 | WELCOME TO THE 2017 NSW HEALTH INNOVATION SYMPOSIUM <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • James O’Loughlin, Master of Ceremonies • Uncle Allen Madden, Welcome to Country • Elizabeth Koff, Secretary, NSW Health |
| FINALIST VIDEO: Patients as Partners | |
| 10.20 | KEYNOTE: Leadership: Developing cultures of high quality care <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Professor Michael West, Head of Thought Leadership, The King’s Fund (UK) (via video) |
| 10.45 | Morning tea and networking |
| FINALIST VIDEOS: Delivering Integrated Care | |
| 11.15 | SHOWCASE: How do we create and craft our culture? SYNOPSIS: It is now common for organisations to consider their “workplace culture” and to seek to measure and improve it. An organisation’s culture is seen as key to productivity, quality, and in healthcare, safety. But how do you change something that is made up of collective values, beliefs, assumptions, attitudes, and behaviours? If culture is an amorphous concept, how do we identify the concrete measures we can take that in turn affect the way people feel, believe and interact? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Carlene York, Acting Deputy Commissioner, NSW Police • Dan Hunter, Chief Executive Officer, HealthShare NSW • Teresa Anderson, Chief Executive, Sydney Local Health District |
| FINALIST VIDEOS: Patient Safety First | |
| 11.55 | SHOWCASE: Embedding a culture of enquiry SYNOPSIS: Why does it take so long for health and medical innovations to find their way into everyday practice in the health care system? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sarah McDonald, PhD Student, Sydney Local Health District; Managing Director, Baymob Pty Ltd • Professor Don Nutbeam, Professor of Public Health, University of Sydney; Senior Advisor, Sax Institute • Roslyn Ristuccia, Clinical Research Unit Manager, Centre for Thrombotic & Bleeding Disorders, South Eastern Sydney Local Health District |
| FINALIST VIDEOS: Keeping People Healthy | |
| 12.30 | SHOWCASE: Vulnerable communities SYNOPSIS: A holistic response is needed to break the cycle of disadvantage. Vulnerable people have complex needs and our response needs to be tailored to their requirements and informed by the risks to their wellbeing and future. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sir Harry Burns, Professor of Global Public Health, University of Strathclyde • Michael Coutts-Trotter, Secretary, Department of Family and Community Services • Professor Joanne Travaglia, Health Services Management, Faculty of Health, University of Technology Sydney |
| FINALIST VIDEOS: Supporting our People | |
| 1.15 | Lunch and networking |
| BREAKOUT SESSIONS (Delegates choose one breakout showcase to attend) | |
| 2.15 | BREAKOUT: Embedding change: a Distributive Leadership Model (PLENARY) SYNOPSIS: A consumer will awaken us to the need to bring hope and a life in the community to people with complex illness who are long-stay patients. Our clinical lead will talk on our approach to what is a major reform of practice and our senior project officer will demonstrate learnings and results achieved in our first two years. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Bec Davis, Bachelor of Social Work (Honours) new graduate • Associate Professor Peter McGeorge, Universities NSW and Notre Dame; Consultant Psychiatrist, Uspace: St Vincent’s Private Hospital • Deborah Hoban, Mental Health Branch, NSW Ministry of Health |
| 2.15 | BREAKOUT: Tackling childhood obesity through clinical engagement (BREAKOUT ROOM 1) SYNOPSIS: What local health districts can do in clinical settings to address childhood overweight and obesity. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Dr Michelle Cretikos, Centre for Population Health, NSW Ministry of Health • Dr Teresa Anderson, Chief Executive Sydney Local Health District • Dr Michael Brydon, Chief Executive, The Sydney Children’s Hospitals Network Panel discussion chaired by Dr Elisabeth Murphy, Health and Social Policy Branch, NSW Ministry of Health |
| 2.15 | BREAKOUT: Building an inclusive culture for people with a disability (BREAKOUT ROOM 2) SYNOPSIS: This session will discuss some best practice approaches to providing responsive and inclusive patient centred care for people with intellectual disability. It aims to provide NSW Health staff with practical examples of how to promote inclusion in mainstream health services. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Kylie Scott, ‘Kylie Downs Barriers’ • Andrew Whitehead, Health and Social Policy Branch, NSW Ministry of Health Panel discussion chaired by Nigel Lyons, Deputy Secretary, NSW Ministry of Health |

DAY ONE OUR HEALTH STORY

26 OCTOBER 2017

2.55 Afternoon tea and networking

FINALIST VIDEOS: A Safe and Healthy Workplace

3.25 SHOWCASE: Where are they now? Innovation Exchange showcase

SYNOPSIS: How have local initiatives developed, matured and spread across the NSW health system? We will look at a selection of previous award winning initiatives to see what they are doing now and what lessons have been learned in leading system change. Initiatives such as these are showcased on the Innovation Exchange, a platform that promotes innovations and improvements to health services and recognises the commitment and expertise of staff working in the NSW health system.

• Dr Sarah Dalton, Clinical Lead, Agency for Clinical Innovation

FINALIST VIDEOS: Health Research and Innovation

4.00 Minister Hazzard

The Hon Brad Hazzard MP, Minister for Health and Minister for Medical Research

'In Conversation'

The Hon Brad Hazzard MP and Elizabeth Koff

FINALIST VIDEOS: Excellence in the Provision of Mental Health Services

4.30 Innovation is a State of Mind

James O'Loughlin, Master of Ceremonies

Closing comments

5.00 SYMPOSIUM DAY ONE CONCLUDES

Want more information on sessions and speakers?

Download the app on your Android or iOS device

<https://crowd.cc/s/104Pi>

Password: nswhealth

DAY TWO

OUR HEALTH FUTURE

27 OCTOBER 2017

| | |
|-------|--|
| 8.30 | REGISTRATION, TEA & COFFEE |
| 9.00 | WELCOME TO DAY TWO • James O’Loughlin, Master of Ceremonies |
| 9.10 | KEYNOTE: The future of health SYNOPSIS: Be prepared to go on a journey into the future of healthcare, that in many ways will seem straight out of a science fiction movie — but in fact will showcase things already happening around the world due to stunning advances in the convergence of medical research and technology. (This is one speech you won’t want to miss.) • Shara Evans, Futurist and Founder, Market Clarity |
| 9.40 | KEYNOTE: Augmented Reality to Virtual Reality: From patient care to surgical simulation SYNOPSIS: Augmented reality, Virtual Surgical Planning (VSP), 3D-printing and bioprinting are disruptive technologies that are changing the landscape of surgery, particularly within the fields of Otolaryngology, head and neck surgery and facial reconstruction. This presentation will explore the current and future roles of each of these technologies from the perspective of patient education, surgeon training, optimising patient outcomes, and in reducing the side effects of reconstructive surgery. • Dr Payal Mukherjee, ENT Research lead, Institute of Academic Surgery; RPA Senior Clinical Lecturer, University of Sydney • Co-presented by Professor Jonathan Clark, Kai Cheng, Dr Hamish MacDougall, Dr Elodie Chiarovano, Professor Gordon Wallace |
| 10.30 | KEYNOTE: People + Technology = Better Health? SYNOPSIS: Technology alone does not solve problems or create wellness. Patients, families and staff find it hard navigate and communicate across the health system. How can existing technology assist health system users with more clarity, provide education to supplement treatment, health or wellness, improve health literacy and in turn, support health users to become the leading partner in their health decision making? • Dr Nic Woods, Health Industry Executive, Microsoft Australia • Adjunct Associate Professor Cheryl McCullagh, Director of Clinical Integration, The Sydney Children’s Hospitals Network |
| 10.40 | Morning tea and networking |
| 11.15 | SHOWCASE: Using analytics to transform health and health care SYNOPSIS: This session will showcase the power of data to make a real difference to health outcomes in NSW. • Mark McCrindle, Social Research, Demographer and Futurist, McCrindle Research • Sarah Thackway, Executive Director Epidemiology and Evidence, NSW Ministry of Health • Case Study: The application of data |
| 11.50 | SHOWCASE: Digital Horizons: Innovative, collaborative and personalised SYNOPSIS: The digital landscape is dynamic and ever-changing, as are people’s expectations of 21st-century health care. The future is becoming a reality as NSW Health moves towards a digitally enabled and integrated health system supported by agile technology and driven by data analytics. • Dr Zoran Bolevich, Chief Executive, eHealth NSW • Dr Michael Brydon, Chief Executive, The Sydney Children’s Hospitals Network • Farhoud Salimi, Director of Corporate IT, eHealth NSW |
| 12.25 | SHOWCASE: Disruptive Technologies: Changing the way we treat and care for patients SYNOPSIS: Disruptive technologies have already helped to solve many health care problems. People now have access to their genetic data, revealing health conditions they are predisposed to; wearable devices let us monitor vital signs; and surgical robots allow surgeons to perform previously impossible procedures. But what are the disruptive technologies on the health horizon set to forever change the way we treat and care for patients? • Marcus Dawe, Chief Executive Officer, Carbon & Health Entrepreneur, and informatics Specialist • Professor David Thomas, Director, Kinghorn Cancer Centre • Professor John Rasko, Centenary Institute and University of Sydney |
| 1.05 | PEOPLE’S CHOICE AWARD ANNOUNCED |
| 1.20 | KEYNOTE: Health and Behavioural Insights in NSW SYNOPSIS: Behavioural insights draw on research into behavioural economics and psychology to influence choices in decision-making. By focusing on the social, cognitive and emotional behaviour of individuals and institutions, subtle changes can be made to the way decisions are framed and conveyed, nudging people’s behaviour to improve health and wellbeing. • Dr Alex King, Director Behavioural Insights Unit, Department of Premier & Cabinet |
| | Closing Comments Elizabeth Koff |
| 1.40 | Lunch and networking |
| 2.40 | 2017 NSW HEALTH INNOVATION SYMPOSIUM CONCLUDES |