

Careers as a Nurse Practitioner

Take your nursing career to the next level as a Nurse Practitioner and see the difference you make – every day.

Training and education includes 5,000 hrs of advanced practice prior to being endorsed by the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia.

Scholarships

Build your NP career with a funded scholarship at Graduate Diploma (for specialist knowledge) and Masters levels (NP).

Workplace learning

NSW Health uses a transitional NP pathway (Transitional Nurse Practitioner) to employ nurses while they complete their education and training.

Nurse Practitioners (NPs) are expert, highly qualified nurses who work autonomously at an advanced level of practice. NPs assess and diagnose patients, request and interpret tests, prescribe therapies and medications, and receive and make referrals to other health practitioners.

From neonates to aged care, emergency to women's health and rural healthcare, NPs deliver care across the life span in a broad range of health settings.

Becoming a Nurse Practitioner

NPs are registered nurses who have undertaken post graduate education (minimum of graduate certificate) in their specialty area in addition to specific NP master's level education.

Where can I find more information?

Scan the QR code to find out more.

