

Conflict Resolution

Marny Thomas and Emma McCahon
June, 2016

The SCHN Experience

Framework

- Looking inwards
- Looking outwards
- Looking from above
- Looking forward
- Being a leader

The Sydney
children's Hospitals Network
care, advocacy, research, education

SCHN AHNMs

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network
care, advocacy, research, education

children's
Hospitals Network
care, advocacy, research, education

SCHN AHNMs

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network
care, advocacy, research, education

Quiz time....

Quiz: true or false

Conflict is always avoidable

Conflict is inevitable and natural Conflict makes us uncomfortable & defensive

Unresolved conflict can do relational harm

Conflict makes dialogue easier

There are times when conflict is desirable

When effects may be negative, conflict should not be addressed

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

Savage Chickens

by Doug Savage

www.savagechickens.com

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

Where does conflict come from?

Incomplete or wrong information

Different perceptions &/or expectations

Competition for scarce resources

Incompatible / interdependent roles & responsibilities

Cultural differences

Different values and beliefs

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

Where does conflict come from

- Incomplete or wrong information
- Different perceptions &/or expectations
- Competition for scarce resources
- Incompatible / interdependent roles & responsibilities
- Cultural differences
- Different values and beliefs

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

Negative aspects of conflict

Conflict is often regarded as negative, destructive and undesirable.

Conflict can:

- hinder communication
- interfere with relationships
- increase problems
- erect barriers

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

Is conflict useful?

Conflict can also be creative and constructive.

Conflict can:

- promote new ideas
- strengthen relationships
- encourage interpersonal communication
- stimulate individual growth
- facilitate the examination of problems

Exercise

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

How do we manage conflict?

“Take two, twice a day to help control rage. By the way, I put them in a child-proof bottle and overcharged you.”

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

Conflict habits

Can choose your approach

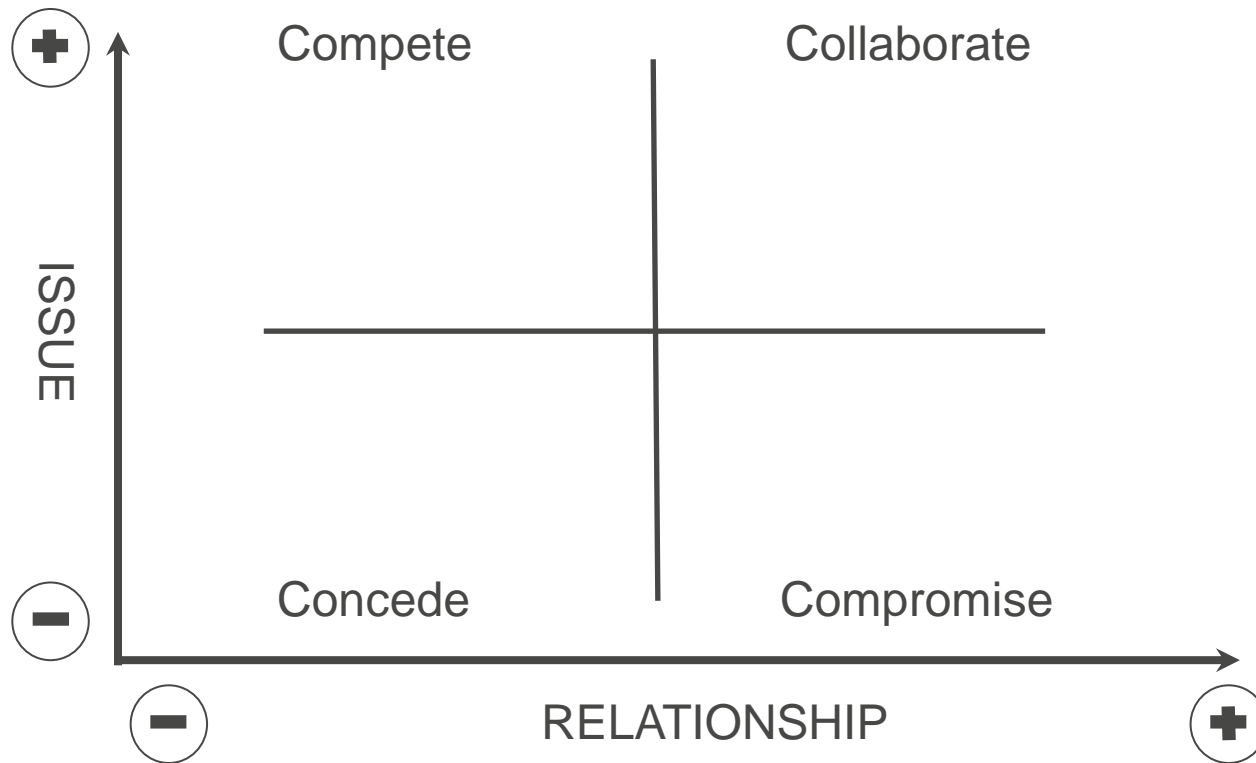

- Withdrawal
- Suppression
- Win / Lose
- Compromise
- Win / win

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

Issue versus Relationship Model

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

Reframing

Observation

- Neutral objective terms

Feelings

- Apologise for your part in the conflict
- Appreciate
- Consequences

Objectives / Needs

Requests

Summary

Conflict can be a double edged sword

Remember what triggers conflict

Choose your approach and language

Win – Win solutions

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education

The Sydney
children's
Hospitals Network

care, advocacy, research, education